The meeting held with Mr. Reynolds was for the purpose of discussing

1. Site.
2. Cost estimates leading to determination of minimum sum required for construction.
3. General design.
4. Funds.

1. Site. Mr. Wolf stated that General Smith had definitely decided on the Nevius Tract as the first site and, as a second choice, the Soldiers' Home site will be considered. He further stated that General Smith would not, under any circumstances, consider the Langley, Virginia site.

Mr. Underwood advised, in his opinion, that the Nevius Tract was not a good selection because this site is in the probable target area; and that the cost of construction on this site would be greater than the cost on either of the other two possible sites.
